

Platform for Linda Lenore

- 1) Linda Lenore, one-of-the-first-three non-Asian Certified Feng Shui Masters in North America, obtained her certification in the Canary Islands through Qi-Mag International Institute of Feng Shui and Geobiology, the world's largest Feng Shui School. She has trained with 22 Masters during her 25+ years of study and has performed nearly 7,000 consultations.
- 2) Linda has been selected as a featured speaker at the prestigious 2013 San Francisco Flower & Garden Show.
- 3) Linda appeared on the Hallmark Channel's morning talk show. She's also appeared on ABC, CBS, NBC, CNN and FOX television stations in programs such as Evening Magazine, Good-Morning Jacksonville, Henry's Garden and Primetime, has been interviewed on the radio throughout the nation – including Internet Radio/Woman's Day - and was interviewed for a Feng Shui documentary in Europe.
- 4) As a Certified Green Building Professional and the only "Vital Home/Vital Office" consultant in North America - a distinction obtained in Europe and a standard by which environments are rated for high-energy and harmonious building conditions – she creates spaces of vitality and prosperity in homes, businesses, non-profits, and educational and health care facilities.
- 5) Linda is honored to be an ASID (American Society of Interior Designers) Distinguished Speaker for 2008. As an educator, Linda has been a University of California faculty member. She's lectured at colleges and universities across the nation including Santa Clara University and Stanford University.
- 6) Linda Lenore is the author of the Best-Seller, "The Gift of the Red Envelope: A Guide to Designing Balance, Order and Beauty in Your Home," a contributing author to several books including "Power to Change," "Organizing Options," "Gifts That Heal," & "Rocket Mom," plus an international columnist of "Balancing Inner Spaces." She has authored several "Special Reports" and over 75 articles on Feng Shui.
- 7) "The Gift of the Red Envelope" was on the Top-10 Best Seller list in stores for several months and was reviewed as a "must read" through independent bookstores.
- 8) Her Feng Shui work has been featured in the San Jose Mercury News (Front Page, "Above-the Fold", 2-page spread) titled "Corporate Balancing Act", plus featured in a Syndicated Group of both Japanese and Korean Newspapers.
- 9) She has been quoted as a Feng Shui expert in the Wall Street Journal, Los Angeles Times, Christian Science Monitor, The Business Journals of San Francisco, San Jose and Silicon Valley. Parts of her life story have appeared in Reader's Digest and Lifetime TV/Media.
- 10) Her videos, "Nurturing the Soul" and "Environments That Heal" have been distributed throughout North America as a leading educational tool on Feng Shui for both the layperson and the design community. In the 1980's, her audiotape, "Feng Shui: A Western Approach," was the first to connect Feng Shui with practical Western interior and exterior design.
- 11) Linda has been in the design field for over 50 years. Her award-winning designs have appeared in publications such as Better Homes & Gardens Special Interests, newspapers, and television, including special recognition on the Super Bowl for both the designed building and her client.
- 12) As a professional member of the National Speakers Association, Linda's been featured at over 25 Home and Garden Shows throughout North America with topics on home, garden, green/sustainable and Feng Shui design.
- 13) Linda was the first Certified ASID Educator to present Feng Shui to the design field at the ASID National Conference (3-years), is a 13-year presenter at the ASID Career Day, and a 6-year presenter at the NAPO (National Association of Professional Organizers) Conferences and Conventions. She presented to the largest meeting for the Washington, DC chapter of the International Building Association and American Institute of Architects. She was the most requested presenter - an unprecedented 6 years - at the Sacramento Bee's A Woman's Day Event, an event that drew over 3,000 women each of its last 4 years. At women's conferences, she often presents to standing-room-only crowds, addressing issues women face in today's society.
- 14) In 1998, Linda was the featured speaker at the Canadian Interior Design, Architecture and Builders' Conference, "Environments Inside Out" in Vancouver, British Columbia. In 1997, she was a guest presenter at the first World Healing Summit & Esalen Indian Tribal Peace Summit.
- 15) Some of her corporate clients include: America On-Line (AOL), Apple Computer, Booz-Allen & Hamilton/Washington, DC, Harley-Davidson, Hewlett-Packard, IBM, The Ritz-Carlton Spa/Half Moon Bay, The UPS Stores, The Wild Bird Centers, and TiVo.
- 16) Healing environments include; Kaiser Permanente Hospitals in Santa Clara, San Jose/Santa Teresa, and Redwood City, Stanford University Hospital and Medical Center, St. Lukes Hospital, Mills-Peninsula Hospital, Sequoia Hospital and Lucille Packard's Children Center & Hospital.
- 17) As a leader in Feng Shui and buildings, Linda has been educating the real estate community about Feng Shui principles and their affect on the housing market since 1985.
- 18) In the community, Linda is active in several chambers of commerce and is a graduate of the Redwood City/Belmont/San Carlos Leadership Class of 1998.
- 19) An avid networker, Linda has formed over 100 networking groups, teaching individuals how to build thriving businesses using ancient wisdom and modern techniques. She is the founder of a Spiritual Networking Women's Group (1995) – a group designed to support the many aspects of women in business.

Copyrights © Linda Lenore, 2001 – 2013 All Rights Reserved.

Email: Linda@LindaLenore.com Websites: www.LindaLenore.com & www.GreenChiDesigns.com (Blog)
Feng Shui Master & Certified Green Building Professional * Author * Professional Speaker